CUSTOM SOFTWARE DEVELOPED AND AGREEMENT FOR COMMERCIALIZATION

Invention Record AU#2021-074 “EAGLES Equip App”

Dr. Betty Patten collaborated with The IP Exchange at Auburn University to execute a commercialization agreement between the EAGLES program and a technology start-up company. Dr. Patten developed a curated platform to streamline the administrative processes of the EAGLES program and decrease cognitive of staff, while also developing a student-based mobile application to help students better manage their day, automate tasks analyses processes, and increase independence. After the minimum valuable product was created between Auburn University and Airship, conversations about maintenance, growth, and commercialization began. As a result, EquipNX, Inc. was developed and through negotiations between the CEO and College of Education, an agreement all parties executed an agreement with Auburn for AU#2021-074: “EAGLES Equip App”. Betty Patten, the lead PI of this initiative, along with Jessica Milton, Lauren Ozment, and Stephanie Willis of the Department of Special Education, Rehabilitation, and Counseling all contributed to the development of the EAGLES Equip App. The agreement includes the following: The app provides a platform for individuals with intellectual disabilities to manage their day-to-day activities, including scheduling, routines, announcements, and important documents. Previous methods required multiple platforms and by combining them into one, it reduces the cognitive load for these individuals and their caregivers. Visit www.equipnx.com to learn more about eh inclusive higher education management platform and mobile application.
